The term outsider art was coined by art critic Roger Cardinal in 1972 as an English synonym for art brut (French: “raw art” or “rough art”), a label created by French artist Jean Dubuffet to describe art created outside the boundaries of official culture;

Dubuffet focused particularly on art by insane-asylum inmates. While Dubuffet’s term is quite specific, the English term “outsider art” is often applied more broadly, to include certain self-taught or Naïve art makers who were never institutionalized.
